Council Defers Library Purchase

A move by Newmarket council to accept the library board's recommendation to buy the Webb home on Main St. for a library building was tabled on Monday night. Although council was at the point of a decision, Reeve A. D. Evans was asked to consult the board on possibilities of building a new library.

A motion by Mr. Evans and councillor Renzius was first read, adopting the board's recommendation. After considerable discussion, councillor Tom Birrell said, "If the same missionary work had been done for a new library building as has been done to purchase the Webb property, I think there would be just as likely a chance of getting it." Mr. Birrell added that he would not vote against the motion to buy the Webb property.

Mayor Vale asked Reeve Evans to table the motion and take Mr. Birrell's suggestion to the library board. "If they obtain plans for a new building, they can be submitted before next October and a vote of the people can be taken," said Mr. Vale.

The question was raised as to where a new library building could be erected. Suggestions were made for tearing down the buildings on the fire hall corner and using that site or for using the parking lot on Park Ave. behind the post office. Councillor Lorne Paynter said that he understood that the land on Park Ave. was to be used for municipal building purposes.

When the motion was first read by Mr. Evans, the mayor questioned the policy of persuading the Ontario municipal board to pass the expenditure without a vote.

"On the other hand, I don't know how to have the ratepayers approve of it and at the same time handle it practically. The next vote could not be taken until December, 1950," said the mayor.

"Is the need so great to buy an unassessable property?" asked Councillor VanZant.

"The library board has been trying for ten years to acquire a suitable building," Mr. Evans replied.

"We are just making a patch work quilt out of the town. I think we should build a new library," commented councillor J. O. Dale.

"Yes, but we'd like to see a library in our day," Mr. Evans replied.

Mayor Vale said that the council should not be the ones to decide on the suitability of the building. "The library board is an appointed body and is charged with those duties," he said. "It has made its complete decision. Ours is only of policy, to

Chairman of the special committee on safety in the Lions club is J. O. Hines. Committee members are Jack Lawrence and Jim Sloss.

"In all the education for our youngsters, there is little on safety and traffic caution," said Mr. Hines. "The fundamentals of safety are just as important to the school children as arithmetic," he said.

"We would like to find some system whereby older boys in each school can guide other school children on the streets and at crossings," Mr. Hines said.

Canadian Plowmen Sail To Compete Overseas

When Canada's champion plowmen sail today to participate in matches aboard they will take maple trees with them to plant in Great Britain, Holland, Denmark and West Germany.

In addition to the maple trees the Canadian plowmen will carry with them a quantity of maple sugar supplied by the Province of Quebec for distribution to friends. The trees are furnished by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

Canada's champion plowmen are Ronald K. Marquis, 28, of R. R. 1, Sunderland, Ont., and James R. Eccles, 30, of R. R. 2, Brampton, Ont. Esso gold medalists in the horse and tractor classes respectively at the International Plowing Match held near Brantford last October.

The pair are accompanied by Alex McKinney, Jr., of Brantford, as coach-manager.

The three sail from New York on the Queen Mary for a month's tour of the British Isles as guests of Imperial Oil. In addition to taking part in plowing matches they will study British methods of agriculture and visit many places of interest. At the end of the British Isles tour they plan to visit Holland, Denmark, and West Germany at their own expense. They will fly back to Canada.

None of the three have ever been abroad but they are all of British stock. They represent fourth and fifth generations of families that migrated to Canada more than a century ago and they plan to look up family connections when overseas.

Arena Innovations Near Completion

Another week should see the completion of the work at the Newmarket arena. Work on the players' benches is going forward at present. It was found these were too high and will be brought down nearer level with the ice.

Little work is going to be done to the north side of the arena for the present at least. Sometime in the not too distant future it is expected seats, probably two or three rows of theatre seats, will be put in position along the north side now used as standing room.

One feature that shows foresight on the part of the building committee has been the installation of a pump, piping, etc., so that water can be brought in from the river. The pump was in use for the first time this week. It should save considerably on cost of water to operate the cooling equipment.

There has always been more or less controversy as to where the band would sit at the hockey

Council To Consider Paving Of Streets

The Newmarket town council will vote on a by-law in the near future which will call for the widening and resurfacing of present paved streets. The project would come under the local improvement act whereby part of the cost will be met by the town and part will be assessed against the property owners.

The motion by Reeve A. D. Evans and Frank Bowser was introduced by Mr. Evans at council meeting Monday night. It urged that a by-law be introduced to provide for the widening, construction of storm sewers, curbs and gutters and resurfacing on the following streets: from Main to Lorne on Millard Ave., from Millard to Eagle on Lorne, from Timothy to Millard on Church, from Main to Lorne on Timothy Ave.

For more than a year, Mr. Evans has urged council to consider resurfacing the streets in Newmarket. At the beginning of last year he attempted to introduce a motion to start the work on streets in 1949 but with the increased business in council action was put off.

If the by-law is introduced and passed by council, it will have to be sent to the Ontario municipal board. The board would call a meeting of ratepayers for approval of the expenditure.

Town engineer Denne Bosworth has completed surveys of all the streets for data needed to start the project. Mr. Bosworth said that the estimated cost of resurfacing Prospect St. is $18,112. Total cost for the one street including storm sewers, resurfacing and widening would be $59,950 according to estimates, he said.

Chas. VanZant and Lorne Paynter were appointed by the town council as its representatives on the Newmarket Recreation Commission Monday night.

Firemen Praised For Efficient Job

The Newmarket fire department was called out twice within the last week. "There was nothing serious, just a couple of good work-outs," said fire chief Jos. Brammar.

On Tuesday night before 7 p.m. high winds fanned a bonfire in the flats between Queen St. and the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. Sparks were carried by the wind but there was no damage.

Sunday evening there was a call to a bad chimney fire above the Bell Telephone office, Main St. The chimney which serviced the apartment above the Bell extended through a false ceiling and four feet into the switchboard room; firemen had to remove burning soot from the downstairs section in the telephone office.

The local management of the Bell Telephone company expressed its congratulations yesterday to Chief Brammar and the firemen "for the efficient method of procedure followed in extinguishing this fire, and for the clean up job afterwards."

"While this fire could have developed into a very serious affair, the switchboard operating service to the public was not disturbed and normal service was continued throughout the period of time that the firemen were engaged in their duties," the management said.

Municipal Officers Appointed by Council

Several municipal officers for Newmarket were appointed again for the new year by council on Monday night. Fence viewers in the three wards are Robert Howlett, A. F. Johns and G. W. Curtis. Bullet Smashes Costly Window

A bullet went through a $100 pane of glass in a living-room picture window in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Askew on Gorham St. on Saturday afternoon while the owners were out. The bullet went through the wood of a sun shade and through the first pane of the thermopane window and lodged in the second sheet of glass.

The bullet was so thoroughly squashed that police were unable to identify its type. Chief Constable Byron Burbridge thought it was either from a .22 or an English air gun which is much more severe than Canadian air guns. These guns can be purchased locally. The bullet was sent to the ballistics department for identification.

On return home on Saturday Mr. Askew hunted for footprints in the snow and found some on the far side of the stream which is close to the house. Asked if this was the first

Barrie vs. All-Stars, Opening Ceremony, Figure Skating

It's official now. The grand opening of the new artificial ice palace in Newmarket is next Wednesday night, January 18. "The all-stars are expected to be built up around Newmarket's Spitfires and will include player assistance from Sutton, Bradford and Aurora. Also on the program will be several figure skating acts, clowns and a parade of minor hockey teams.

Speaker during the opening ceremonies at 8 p.m. will be J. A. Carroll, director of the Ontario department of agriculture. Town officials and O.H.A. officials are expected to be on hand at the ceremonies. At this time

Mayor Alex Bell Takes Aurora Office

"It will be difficult to fill the mayor's chair vacated by such men as Dr. Crawford Rose and Ross Linton," were the words of newly elected mayor of Aurora, Alex. Bell. Mr. Bell went on to say that he felt that the 1950 council would co-operate fully and added that he thought Aurora would have a prosperous year.

In addressing the councillors, interested citizens and press representatives in the council chambers, at the inaugural meeting of the Aurora town council, Mr. Bell pointed out that in the past, council activities had been behind an "iron curtain" and hoped that in the future, more publicity would follow council meetings to give an increased interest to the citizens of Aurora. Mr. Bell went on to say that many good citizens were defeated in the past municipal election and also indicated that he felt more votes should be cast each year. He promised the town a full agenda and that he would do his best to fulfill the position he holds for 1950.

Reeve A. Cooke said that not only were the councillors faced with a big job for the coming year, but every citizen in Aurora has a task in front of him that should be executed to the best of his ability in order to keep Aurora a leading town in Ontario and the hub of the wheel in the County of York. Following the stirring address by Reeve Cook, Deputy-Reeve R. H. Corner said the important projects for this year would be co-operation and education. Councillors, H. N. Pringle, James Murray, Victor Jones, Don Glass and H. C. Corbett all spoke and each man expressed his desire for co-operation through 1950 to complete the work that lies ahead. It was generally agreed by the councillors that 1949 had been a good year and that in the coming year every success possible would fall on Aurora through the efforts of the council.

The meeting was opened by Captain Bonar who led the people in the crowded council chamber in prayer. Before signing the declarations for 1950 the oath of office was read by clerk H. N. Clark.

Other speakers at the meeting held Monday morning were Rev. A. R. Park, Rev. W. K. Whatmough, Rev. H. Howie, Dr. G. W. Williams, Dr. C. Rose, A. Cousins, A. E. L. Maughan, A. C. Welk, Frank Underhill, L. C. Lee, L. P. Evans and R. G. Tucker.

Before the Christmas holidays three shots were fired through the girls' cloakroom window at Newmarket High School when three girls were in the cloakroom getting dressed at about 5.30 p.m. after having watched a basketball game. The cloakroom is situated in the east side of the building. Police said the bullets were from either a .22 or an English made air gun.

Principal J. W. Lockhart of Newmarket High school said that he would make an announcement in assembly this morning to the effect that the police are putting on a drive to stop people carrying guns in the district.

When her mother called out to four young boys with guns who were doing the shooting, they turned away and then shot three more times.

The Askew residence is in Whitechurch township which is a game preserve. Chief Constable Byron Burbridge said "whereas no license is required for purchasing either a .22 or an English air gun, a license is required for hunting, and I'm asking the game warden to patrol the district."

Aurora Considers Provincial Policing

The possibility of having the Ontario provincial police patrol the streets of Aurora will be investigated by the town council following a motion made at the first meeting of 1950 held Monday night. The motion was made following a request by the Aurora police department for increased wages.

The increases asked for were for $806 for the chief constable and for the first class constable, $288. These rates were not set by the local police force but by the York county police association. Accompanying the request was a list of salaries paid to policemen by other communities similar to Aurora. In the majority of towns and districts like Aurora, it was noted that law enforcement officers were all receiving higher salaries than the local police would, even if the increase asked for were granted. Should the request for higher wages be approved, the Aurora chief of police would receive $3,200 annually and the first class constable $2,500.

After the request had been read, deputy-reeve R. H. Corner pointed out that he felt, with a strong provincial police detachment in town, that two police forces were not needed. He also added that he felt the provincial constables would police Aurora for less than the present rates. It was also pointed out that a town of 3,500 people would soon be requiring more than two police officers. Councillors Charles Davies seconded the motion made by R. H. Corner to have the provincial police supply information concerning policing the town of Aurora. All but one member of council voted in favor of it.

Health Nurse And M.O.H. Examine School Children

Infected tonsils, defective vision and dental defects make up the majority of ailments bothering the pupils of Aurora public school. According to public health nurse Miss Helen Devlin, only 84 pupils of the entire public school enrollment were found with any physical defects.

At the beginning of the school term in September, Miss Devlin and Dr. G. W. Williams, medical officer of health, made a rapid inspection of all grade pupils for communicable disease and the results were encouraging. Then, in October, Dr. Williams completed physical examinations of 53 pupils in grades one and two in the town hall classes. Since then, routine inspection of 149 pupils in grades two, three, four and five have been carried out and over 90 special ear and eye tests were given.

At the present time, there are 57 children in the public schools who are under inspection. These children will be re-inspected early in the spring. Miss Devlin, who works double duty as representative of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Aurora as well as acting as public health nurse, expressed desire for more time as she felt thorough follow-up visits are necessary to make sure children suffering physical defects are cured.

In her report presented to the board of health, Miss Devlin pointed out that there had been 16 visits to homes concerning school children who needed medical assistance and at all times found the parents appreciated the assistance given by the school health service and co-operated fully.

Satisfaction was also expressed by Miss Devlin with the pamphlets distributed by the Ontario department of health. These posters and showcards are in all of the school-rooms at the Aurora public school and are being used by teacher and pupils in teaching and learning health practices.

Megal Deer Hunt Costs $50 for Two

Charged with unlawfully hunting or attempting to hunt and kill deer, three Sutton men were convicted and sentenced when they appeared before Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake in Newmarket on Friday.

The men, Dr. C. S. Noble, Chas. Brooks and James Taylor, were stopped on November 1 by conservation officers E. W. Smith, Oakville, and H. VanWych, Keswick. In their car the officers found a high powered rifle with a flashlight taped to it, a hot-shot battery and a searchlight. It was explained in the court that these items are used for "Jack-lighting deer", which means shining a light in the face of the deer and when the animal freezes as it always does under such conditions, it is then shot.

Brooks and Taylor were fined $50 and costs by the magistrate while Dr. Noble, an experienced hunter and owner of the car in which they were arrested and of the equipment seized, was fined $100 and costs or 30 days in jail.

The arrest was made at the Morning Glory swamp in the Pefferlaw district.

Discuss Complaints On Night Disturbances

Verbal complaints concerning The Aurora Coffee Shop and The North End Taxi presented to members of the Aurora town council were discussed Monday night at the first council meeting of the new year and it was decided that no action could be taken until the complaint was brought before council either by delegation or by a signed letter or petition.

The most recent complaints have been about the slamming of car doors in front of the new North End Taxi stand on Wellington St. West. It was pointed out by Councillor Charles Davies that the time a taxi company does its best business is at night and the closing of car doors would be necessary. The majority of the complaints have been made by Wellington St. residents, Edward Smith and A. C. Welk.

It was decided that the by-law committee would investigate the trouble and report to the council at the next meeting.

Following considerable discussion concerning the proposed hydro substation and office site and the free parking lot that may be given to the town by the Board of Trade it was decided that a committee of A. A. Cook, R. H. Corner and H. N. Pringle follow up the matter on behalf of the council.

Permission was granted to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind to hold its annual tag day in Aurora on May 6. A letter was received from the St. John's Ambulance Association requesting that when and if charitable donations are made, the town keep the association in mind.

A petition signed by several residents of Kennedy St. concerning the lack of street lighting at the foot of the street was presented. It was moved and carried that three additional lights that are required to complete the street lighting be installed by the hyro at once.

New toilet facilities were approved for the public school classes at the town hall. Property committee chairman, Victor Jones, pointed out that the washroom conditions there were bad and that immediate action was necessary.

Aurora Dance Nets $800 For Children's Hospital

With thanks going to the Aurora Young Progressive-Conservative Association, the Hospital for Sick Children Building Fund is approximately $800 richer. Tuesday night the association held a dance at The Gray Stones Restaurant which was a tremendous success.

The dance hall was opened free of charge by the proprietor, Bert Mayrand, and the music was also provided free to the association by Don Gilkes and his orchestra.

The committee in charge of the dance canvassed every house in town selling dance tickets at 75 cents each and on few occasions were sales not made. The committee claimed that the Aurora citizens responded generously when they learned the proceeds were for the Hospital Building Fund.

Aside from the money angle, the dance was also considered a success. The floor was crowded for all numbers and everyone present seemed to enjoy himself thoroughly.

The dance committee was headed by Miss Mary Bowman, president of the association, with assistance coming from Howard Case, George Stone, Wm. Stevens and Larry Maughan.

Canada's first jet fighter, the VF-100, has started its taxi-trials at Malton airport, near Toronto, preparatory to its first flight. The aircraft, built by Avro Canada for the R.C.A.F., is the first long-range all-weather fighter of its type. It is also the first front-line fighter to be designed in Canada and has a speed estimated to be higher than 600 m.p.h.

An Aurora Opinion

By

RAY WILLIAMS

Aurora Editor

We have seen a lot of winters,
And a lot of ice and snow.
But what kept the frost away so long,
Is something we don't know.
These last four weeks left skaters
And skiers in a stew,
For the ground instead of snowy white
Was packed with mud and goo.

At last the artificial ice at the Aurora arena is ready and a full schedule of activities is in operation. It was long and hard for the rink committee to complete this job, especially with the un-called for criticism bestowed by citizens who stood well back from the line of work and fired remarks that did not help at all.

From what we were told of proceedings, it looks to us as if The John Inglis Company who contracted for the job of installing the freezing machinery, could have put more effort in it. In the contract that binded the Aurora Rink Committee and Inglis there was no clause referring to the opening, but, it was expected by the town that no time would be lost in laying the pipes allowing for an early opening. It was expected at one time that the rink would be ready for skating around December 17 but this date was postponed a week. After Christmas it was understood that the opening would take place sometime before the New Year but again the pipes were not ready.

At last, when the pipes were completely installed and tested and the temporary sand floor put in, it was expected that everything was ready for ice. After two or three floods, some sections of the ice started to go soft and upon investigation ammonia leaks in the pipes were found and again postponement of the opening took place. Each morning for the next three days more soft spots in the ice were found and each time it was ammonia leaking through the pipes, melting the surface of the ice. It took almost 24 hours by the time the Inglis employees got around to fixing them for each repair. When the leaks were fixed and everything was ready again for the water, the surface of the ice looked more like a punch-board than a skating rink.

But had Mother Nature not joined sides against the Aurora rink committee, the job would have been completed earlier and the opening would have been around Wednesday of last week. But instead of cold weather that would have helped make natural ice at least, the mercury hovered around the 50 mark and the sun beat down on the tin roof of the arena.

Yes, it took a lot of patience to stick with that job from the start to the finish. The arena manager, Tom Dickson, has run into more tough luck since coming to Aurora than he has in all his life. But he stuck with it and together with a hard working rink committee they completed the job and our congratulations go forward to them.

Last Saturday night the management of the Aurora junior hockey team pulled the prize flop of the year. We cannot say the boys of the club are at fault as they played a home crowd of 700 shivering patrons with a 9-2 victory over Georgetown, but we feel the executive of the team should have at least had some official ceremony before the start of the game. We realize that there will likely be an official opening sometime later this month but still we feel that the first night the artificial ice rink was open some observance of the completed job should have been made.

We have been enjoying a week of holidays, a week which is being stretched into another with a bit of luck. A poor time to take a holiday, granted, particularly with the vagaries of the weather, but this is slack time and if we delay any longer, it will be another year before we loosen up. Working is a bad habit, at times, particularly when you should be relaxing. We see that doctors have classified certain nervous and heart diseases as "businessmen's diseases" because they are so prevalent among that class. Never heard of a farmer suffering from hyper-tension. After agreeing that a man is a fool to work himself into such a state, it is a bit disquieting to find the symptoms in yourself. More holidays, thank you.

Had the stimulating experience of meeting Professor N. J. Thomas of the soils department at the agricultural college. We visited him at his farm with a couple of friends who were interested in his Guernseys. Professor Thomas has a farm of his own and so maintains a nice balance between the theoretical and practical. The theory must certainly apply because he had a good herd.

As a soils man, Professor Thomas was naturally concerned with soil conservation as well as its chemistry. He was, the afternoon we visited him, about to start off to a farmers' meeting on soil fertility. He says he spends a good deal of his time out on the fields rather than in his labs and classrooms. "I am a missionary in the cause of soil conservation," he describes himself. "That's what our work is, mission work, preaching the gospel of soil conservation." "A difficult mission," we suggested. "The difficulty is making farmers see the need for soil conservation," he told us. "We have little difficulty with the methods. The difficulty is in making a farmer see the need to conserve soil. It is, after all, a rather new consideration, the idea that soil is expendable, that it can be washed away, or worn out."

The professor makes a point. A good deal of conservation propaganda is given over to the how of conservation, little of it to the why of conservation. After all, why should a farmer concern himself with the extra effort involved in soil conservation if his fields are giving him good yields now.

That's the question the professor has to answer and he answers it well, we wager, because he has a growing reputation for doing just that.

Fashion Note: We have been assured that there is always a place for a tam among mid-lady's headgear. Only the manner of wearing them changes. Last year they were pulled forward over the brow, giving something of a peak effect. This year a different approach is followed. They are placed squarely upon the head and then sort of squashed and flexed by the hands—our informant made fluttering gestures with her hands—like this.

The tam looked quite perky, no resemblance at all to what it was on the hook. You've been reading Betty's shopping column, we suggested. "No," was the reply, "Lily Dache."

The Editorials:

History And Tourists

A somewhat belated recognition of the importance of historical sites in the tourist industry is indicated by the conference held yesterday under the auspices of the provincial department of travel and publicity. The meeting was attended by tourist leaders and representatives of historical associations. The theme of the meeting was history as a tourist attraction. According to the minister, Hon. Louis P. Cecile, it is hoped local efforts to develop historical sites will be greatly intensified as a result of the conference.

Belated as it is, the conference is good news, although judgment should be withheld until there is some concrete evidence of an "intensified effort." Government treatment of historical sites has not, in the past, been particularly sensible if the cairn on Yonge St. is a fair example. The cairn is just north of Summit Golf club and commemorates Governor Simcoe's laying out of Yonge St. Road signs indicate that this is an historical site but the information at the cairn is so scanty that it's scarcely worth the tourist's time to stop.

Newmarket and district have a wealth of historical landmarks which, if properly renovated and cared for, could be made into tourist attractions. The Friends' Meeting House on Yonge St. is one such landmark but with no indication of it being otherwise, the casual traveller would see it only as another building. Sharon Temple has not been given the publicity it deserves as an historical site of major importance. The interest of tourists, notably from Pennsylvania, would be greatly enhanced by knowledge that these two sites have a strong historical association with their home states.

Historical organizations and volunteers have done splendid work in preserving historical sites but frequently the task has been beyond their means. Government assistance would be a great encouragement but even without it, investment by businessmen's associations in the preservation of historical sites would be returned to them by increased business from tourists.

Busy Year For Council

Newmarket town council has a busy year ahead, a fact acknowledged in the passage of a resolution at the inaugural meeting last week calling for regular council meetings once a week. Additionally, members of council must attend numerous committee meetings which, with their attention to detail, can be as arduous as the regular meetings. It provides an excellent argument on behalf of Mr. R. C. Morrison's proposal that council members seek an increase in their remuneration.

Foremost on the council agenda appears to be the construction of a sewage disposal plant since a special committee has been struck to attend to this project. Council is also more or less committed to heavy road and sidewalk expenditures, and closer consideration to providing a municipal building. Held over from last year are the cleaning up of Fairy Lake and consideration of the library board's proposal to purchase the Webb home for a public library building.

Newmarket has undergone considerable expansion since the war and members of council could be pardoned if they hoped for some relief from the problems imposed upon them by this growth. But building on the outskirts of Newmarket continues without let-up. Preliminary consideration at least must be given to widening the municipal boundaries. Town planning continues to clamor for council recognition. A swimming pool is another of the many undertakings which falls within the council's scope.

There is no doubt that this will be a busy year for Newmarket's council, possibly the busiest in the town's history. We wish them well in their endeavors as the new year begins for them.

The First Half Century

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the 20th century would belong to Canada. "Time was to prove he wasn't far wrong," remarks the Financial Post in the presentation of a series of charts depicting Canada's growth in the first half of the century. The charts indicate, among other facts, that:

In 50 years, Canada's population has increased 155 percent. In the same time, the growth of the population in the United States has been 95 percent, the United Kingdom, 34 percent.

Canada's working force has increased 195 percent with agriculture up 57 percent, manufacturing 340 percent, forests 256 percent, trade, finance 697 percent, service trades, 261 percent.

Canada's export trade, upon which her prosperity depends, has increased from exports worth $33 per capita in 1900 to $205 in 1949.

Industrial production rose from a half billion at the turn of the century to nearly $10 billions.

Approximately one in every three Canadian workers is engaged in agriculture. There's more than $6 billions invested in lands, buildings, livestock, machinery. The most important of our primary industries, agriculture will bring in this year more than $2 billions cash income or more than 20 times as much as at the start of the century.

Mineral production has increased $66 millions in 1901 to $820 millions in 1948.

The standard of living in Canada is second highest in the world, an increase of 50 percent in the last ten years only. The national income per capita is $1,000 (U.S.A. $1,410; U.K. $640). Other indications of the national standard of living: food consumption in lbs. per person per year: milk, dairy products, 68 (U.S. 72, U.K. 50); meat of all kinds, 140 (U.S. 143, U.K. 103); grain products, 200 (U.S. 205, U.K. 251); car ownership, one for every nine Canadians, U.S., one for every four, U.K., one for every 24; phones, one for every six Canadians, U.S., one for every four, U.K., one for every 12; electric power, kwh per capita used, 3,775; U.S., 2,323; U.K., 931.

There is only one flaw in this shining record of progress, the increase in federal revenue and federal debt. The former increased, almost all by taxes, from $8 per person to $191; the latter from $65 per person to $852.

More Like Wishful Thinking

"There is always a market for foodstuffs if we are willing to accept the prices it offers. Our farmers today are making a mistake in centering their attention on prices and forgetting about costs for it is costs that are threatening their solvency."

The quotation is from an interview with Mr. Ernest C. Drury, leader of the U.F.O. and premier of Ontario 1919-23, now sheriff of Simcoe County and farmer at Crown Hill near Barrie. The interview appeared in The Rural Scene, a new journal of farm opinion. Mr. Drury is further quoted:

"Our dairy farmers made a mistake when they opposed the sale and manufacture of oleomargarine. They are lucky they didn't get what they asked for. To those who cannot afford butter, margarine is a satisfactory substitute; and as long as it is available, there will not be much complaint about the present high cost of butter. But if margarine were not available today, the government would be under tremendous pressure to force the price of butter down; and the dairy farmers would not like that . . .

"Value is not cost nor cost plus. The value of an article is what you can get for it and no more. If that is not sufficient to cover your production costs, then your costs are too high . . .

"We must sell our surplus products on the world's markets at the prices those markets can pay; and we must bring our costs into line with those prices."

Mr. Drury's economies are probably quite correct but like a good many other excellent principles, its value is destroyed by an inability to put it to practical application. Farmers can reduce their own costs by more efficient farming, it is true, and Mr. Drury's emphasis upon a cost-consciousness is timely. However, the bulk of farm costs is made up of fixed expenses over which the farmer has no control. The cost of implements, of feed, of help—these are costs which are fixed by circumstances beyond the authority of the individual farmer. In time, these costs will be lowered as farm prices drop, but during the period of adjustment, the farmer has no choice but to hold out the best he can.

Mr. Drury's economies would be practical if the national economy were regulated solely by farm prices, and sufficiently flexible to adjust quickly as farm prices changed. This is not the case, and while farm prices do have a tremendous influence upon the national economy, they are not the only factors. Under present circumstances, Mr. Drury's advocacy of market prices fixed by demand and ability to pay seems wishful thinking.

I was surprised last week to find that there are a number of undiscovered writers just languishing around town and pointing because they are not recognized. Of course they have other jobs and don't have to write to make a living and they really don't write at all. They just think they can.

Multitudes have been clamoring at your cat columnist for the opportunity of expressing themselves in this journal. I was more surprised to find that their motives were not all genuine. It became apparent that this fired ambition was not to write but to qualify for a cut-rate out-of-town membership in the Toronto Men's Press Club.

Lottie the cat from London comments on the current foreign policy differences between H.M.'s Govt. and the U.S. on China: "We British know what we are doing in these matters. As it has been said, 'What we have, we'll hold, if we can get it back.'"

"It's too bad that Simon the cat who did a turn on the Amethyst in China is no longer with us to comment on affairs. Rest his soul."

"So what if we recognize the Chinese Communists? After all we can't go on pretending that many millions of people who are at our back door step are not really there. It would be like A. A. Milne's elephant behind another elephant behind another elephant that wasn't really there. Besides we can't afford to lose business with a person just because the cut of his coat is unpopular or we don't like the way he parts his hair."

Manhattan Mouser comments on the current foreign policy differences from the American scene: "The trouble with us is that we don't know whether we want to be anti-British and semi-pro-Nationalist and awfully un-British Chinese Communist or pro-British, anti-fascist and Oil is the reason for everything. No country can get along without it. The U.S. even can't get along without oil. They need all the oil they can get and they'll do anything to get it. Just like the Americans, unless they are well oiled, they can't keep on going."

I simply feel that figuring out international intrigue is more than I can handle these days.

An Englishman stopped me on the street the other day and said, "The reason I came to this country was to get away from wet weather. I was misinformed."

Water and slush. A friend of mine came in the office covered with mud and water. "I wish these drivers would go more slowly along wet streets. Some driver even splashed mud in my mouth."

She paused but the pause was too long. "O.K. that will teach me to keep my mouth shut." We didn't say a word.

An article in one of our daily papers on co-operation housing makes it look too easy. It says that $2,000 can be saved on each house, by people doing their own work. The wrong impression is often given of co-operation. Suppose five people would start to build five homes on the co-op plan. The reason people become interested in co-op is that they can invest small amounts of capital. Suppose each one of the five people would loan $500. There would be $2,500 capital to start. When the five homes are complete each home would have a mortgage to pay off. The only advantage is the group with pooled capital could borrow where one person could not.

Co-op store must pay interest on member loans, rent, taxes, wages, income tax, the same as any other business. At the end of the co-op store year if the members find the profits are too high it is their right to instruct the management to reduce the price of consumer goods. In this way co-op members can hold a price level. Co-ops do not cut prices or enter in any price fixing.

The workmen's compensation board found that many accidents in industry were caused by worry. Management by efficiency experts, found that when workmen were worried about sickness and finance that production was slowed down. Now we have many firms with a life insurance, hospital, and retiring pension, part paid by the company, and part by the employee. The consuming public has to pay a higher price for consumer goods.

We have a large group, clerks in stores, small business, and farmers, who help pay for such schemes and get no benefit. If it is good for part of the community to have protection why not then for everyone?

In co-operation there is a scheme for life insurance. The members are in age groups and according to the amount of Everyone in the community is a consumer and could get in on this scheme. Of the municipality could add to the tax rate and we would have a system of forced saving.

We have those who while they are able to produce and earn have no thought of sickness or old age. With this wonderful thing called individualism and self-made men, from the cradle to the grave we depend on someone else. The only value we have is people's ability to produce. We may have plant, factory, mine, farm, forest. What good are they until someone goes to work.

We do not condemn industry in looking after their employees, rather we would encourage it. We all contribute to our economy and should all receive the same security. It does not seem fair that a man can spend his money as he wishes, and if any reverse comes he may declare himself to be an indigent and all costs are paid by the municipality.

We do not maintain that our sick should not be taken care of. But we should give careful study to sickness and old age. When we get to the time when we have old age pension and hospital care on a contributory plan, we will have to see that everyone has a job to earn money to pay the premium.

Whether we like it or not we are forced by circumstance to be our brother's keeper. And that is the way it should be. Cheerio.

Crop Ass'n Annual Meeting Taxes Capacity Of Hall

York County Crop Improvement Association held its most successful annual meeting to date on Friday when over 200 farmers turned out for the all day session. According to secretary, W. M. Cockburn, the growth of the Crop Improvement Association has been almost phenomenal in the past five or six years. Organized in 1938 the annual meetings up till 1945 were attended by about 18 or 20 but in 1946 the meeting moved to a larger room before business could be proceeded with and the following year a larger hall was provided but it proved too small in 1949. In the midst of that session the Parish hall was pressed into service and this year it was bulging. The directors already have their eye on the town hall for 1951.

Keen was interest shown in the display of sods arranged by agricultural representative, W. M. Cockburn, secretary of the association. These had been taken from representative demonstration long-term pastures seeded in 1943, 1944, 1945 and 1946 to show the way the various species of grasses and clovers are keeping up. Taken during the mild spell before Christmas the sods had been kept in a green house and were just starting to green up. Other sods showed the before and after effect of breaking and reseeded a low lying problem pasture with suitable types of pasture varieties, while two others were on display from the first and second prize winning farms of a pasture competition conducted by Richmond Hill Agricultural Society.

With a previous generous estimate of 125 for lunch the ladies of St. Andrew's had some scurrying for more loaves and fishes to feed the 160 who had arrived for lunch as guests of the Association and were thankful for a phone in the kitchen. The afternoon session opened with the election of directors who met later to elect their officers. Past President Frank Marritt, Keswick, was called on to introduce the guest speaker, Mr. D. H. Hart, of Woodstock, a prominent Holstein breeder and very successful farmer who dealt with the subject of hay and pastures for 1950, a subject very much on the mind of so many farmers whose new seedlings were burned up in 1949. His treatment of this subject was practical and so interestingly presented that it brought out the best discussion ever held by this association, including questions on various types of hay-making machinery and practices of pasture management. Perhaps of equal significance was his reference to ground cob corn as a preservative for grass silage and his statement that the Birds-foot Trefoil so much publicized in American publications in his limited experience was better suited to light than to heavier soil.

Following adjournment the directors met to elect their officers for the year as follows:

President, J. D. Lanthier, Leitchcroft Farm, Gormley; vice-pres., Albert Rutherford, Woodbridge; sec.-treas., W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket; executive com., Clifford Wallwork, Stouffville, R. R. 2; Clark Young, Milliken; and Frank Marritt, Keswick. President J. D. Lanthier was appointed as delegate to the Ontario Crop Improvement convention in Toronto, January 18, 19 and 20.

Elect Cecil Jarvis Legion President

The annual meeting of branch 428, Canadian Legion, was held Monday, Jan. 9.

Retiring president, Tom Ewing, opened the meeting and presented the annual report. Harry Glover, district commander of District "E," was introduced and asked to take the chair for the election and installation of officers.

Comrade Glover spoke briefly of the responsibilities the elected officers would be expected to assume, and of the importance of Legion work.

When the smoke of the "battle of the ballot" had cleared the following emerged as the new officers of the branch:

Pres., Cecil Jarvis; first vice-pres., Fred Gardner; 2nd vice-pres., Mill. Wesley; sec., N. P. Kelley; treas., Wm. LaParde; Sgt.-at-Arms, Robt. Stickwood.

Executive, C. Gordon, W. Ingram, Jack Fisher, Art Sheridan, A. Apps, N. McDonald, H. Eaton, Donald, H. Eaton.

After installation president-elect Cecil Jarvis promised his untiring efforts for the work of the Legion and asked for the full support of members.

Mount Albert News

Our town fathers have been at last successful in getting the township council to sign their contract for the new fire engine, one of which was recently demonstrated in town and seems to prove that it would be a valuable addition to our fire equipment. Although we may not have it for several months yet, they do receive a pump when the order is received. It may seem to some a costly affair, but we will surely pay less insurance and feel much safer and we should be grateful to the town fathers for going ahead with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr spent New Year's with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Jarvis, Stouffville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr spent New Year's Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Murv Connell, Keswick.

Mrs. Ernest Carr, Bracebridge, is spending a few days with her nephew, Mr. Roy Carr, and Mrs. Carr.

The Cheerio club met on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Reg Willbee. Mrs. Price and Mrs. Broderick were in charge of the program. A solo by Mrs. Couper was enjoyed by all. Mrs. H. Harman gave a helpful paper on budgeting time. The report of the year's work was encouraging.

The following officers for 1950 were elected: pres., Mrs. Couper; first vice pres., Mrs. N. Wilson; second vice pres., Mrs. W. Rate; sec.-treas., Mrs. H. Carr; pianist, Mrs. G. Walsh; program committee for 1950-51: Mrs. A. Hopkings, Mrs. C. Rolling, Mrs. Vera Weller, Mrs. Della Scott; visiting committee, Mrs. N. Brooks, Mrs. Orville Martin, Mrs. W. McFarland, Mrs. H. Cupples, Mrs. N. Wilson, Mrs. Geo. Smith, Mrs. R. Willbee, Mrs. Russell Harrison.

Mrs. P. Mitchell was a Wednesday afternoon guest of Mrs. R. Carr.

Mullen, a former resident of Mount Albert, but who has been a resident of Toronto for some years.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Allison were in Toronto over the weekend attending the funeral of Mrs. Allison's sister, the late Mrs. S. Mc-Donnell. The Women's Institute had a successful community party in the hall on Thursday evening when there were 18 tables of euchre and 11 tables of 500. The lucky prize winners were, 500, Mrs. H. Kurtz and Roy Graham; euchre, Mrs. G. Scott and Stan Hisebrough. The remainder of the evening was spent dancing to Mount Albert orchestra. The proceeds were for the Hospital for Sick Children and as this community is intensely interested right now in the treatment of their own Billy Broderick in the hospital everyone co-operated to make it a success for which the Institute is grateful to the town fathers for the free hall, to those who gave prizes and those who provided lunch, also others who gave donations and enabled the Women's Institute to send the sum of $100 to aid in the building fund of the new Hospital for Sick Children.

The mild weather seems to have brought with it a great deal of sickness in town and we hope the cold spell and heavy snowfall will be more reasonable and clear up the colds and flu.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

Did you ever imagine that Christmas greeting cards would become so universally popular? Yes, and so wonderfully beautiful too! Every year they seem to be more beautiful than in former years—or do I just imagine it? Every year it is the same with the Christmas decorations at church—I think they never were so lovely! I guess it's just me. I have been told I'm always "bubbling over," maybe that's the answer! Well—at any rate—I certainly did enjoy my Christmas greeting cards. I enjoyed sending them, and I enjoyed receiving them. We do not have time during the Christmas rush to appreciate them—and it is only when things have settled down again that we have time to really sit down and devote half an hour or more to the enjoyment of them. Many people use the inside to write a personal message. Then again you can get cards that express the very words you want to say.

Last Sunday afternoon I sat down with my greeting cards, and I assure you I had a wonderful time. Old Puss comes in for his share as well—and as usual he occupied the biggest half of my chair. He quite often thinks he'd rather sit on my knee and wriggles around behind me, finally he gets up, and with his two front paws on my shoulder, leans over and purrs and purrs in my ear, asking in his own cute pussy way if he can't come on my knee for some petting. Maybe I spoil him, but he is the family pet and quite one of the family.

But here I am, as usual, starting one subject and branching off on to another. I wanted to say how particularly lovely this year's Christmas greeting cards are. They seem to change from one year to another—I my first recollection of a Christmas greeting card was a folder with fringe all around and maybe tied with ribbon. It was very gay—always flowers. Then a different kind was the religious one—with pictures from the Old Masters. But there were none of Santa Claus and his reindeer, etc., as we have now, and children hanging up their stockings. That came later. Year by year they change—and I do really think they grow more beautiful.

If you still have your lovely greeting cards do as I did—sit down and give yourself time to really appreciate them. I know it will be a very enjoyable half-hour.

IN MEMORIAM

Harman—In loving memory of our parents who passed away. Mrs. Bessie Harman who died January 12, 1943, and Mr. Benjamin Harman who passed away on March 14, 1938. Oh, how patient in their suffering when no hand could give them ease.

God, the helper of the helpless, Saw their pain and gave them peace. Ever remembered by their children.

Nothing can ever take away. The love a heart holds dear. Fond memories linger every day. Remembrance keeps him near. Lovingly remembered by his wife and son, Donald.

Jones—In fond and loving memory of a dear brother and uncle, Johnny Jones, who passed away Jan. 14, 1941.

There are others too, yes we know But he was ours and we loved him so. Six years ago we had to part With the one we loved with all our heart. The wound's so deep it will not heal. Only those who have lost know how we feel. Sadly missed by his sister, Mildred, brother-in-law Ted and nephew Beverley, of Owen Sound.

Jones—In fond and loving memory of our dear son and brother, Johnny Jones, who passed away Jan. 14, 1941, in his 39th year. January days, coming back once again. Recall sad memories of anguish and pain. Your tragic young passing, a constant regret. The sadness and sorrow still lingers yet. Ever I'm keeping your memory bright. Dear Johnny so noble, true and upright. I see you dear son, your sweet smile so dear. My heart holds you closely, your presence is near. Never forgotten, as time passes by Till we meet in the land of sweet by and by. Loved dearly in life, and still living yet. In the depths of my heart, which can never forget. Ever remembered by his mother, father, sisters and brothers of Owen Sound.

Rivbrough—In loving memory of Mrs. Eliza Rivbrough who passed away on Jan. 12, 1949. Loving and kind in all her ways, Upright and just to the end of her days. Sincere and true in her heart and mind. Beautiful memories she left behind. Lovingly remembered by daughter Mary and son-in-law John and grandchildren, Minnie and Elsie.

Smalley—In loving memory of my dear mother and father, Mary E. Smalley, who passed away Jan. 6, 1912, and Erasmus Smalley who passed away Jan. 12, 1947. Oh happy hours we once enjoyed, How sweet their memory still; But death has left a loneliness. The world can never fill. Lovingly remembered by their daughter Evelyn and grandchildren.

Good to the Finish But Indians Beaten

Staging a garrison finish in the last 23 minutes and backed by some hair-raising, net-minding by rookie Jim Crockett of King, plucked unexpectedly from the crowd when regular netminder Jim Hogan took the count and nine stitches, as he stopped the puck with his noggin, Aurora Indians were shaded by Bradford 7-6 in an intermediate fixture on Tuesday at Aurora arena. Aurora lost the services of ace forward Bill Mundell for over 20 minutes as he was massaged by Mutt Collings in a corner brawl. Hogan was hit and delayed the game 20 minutes, and Ray Williams was lost to the team in the last ten minutes as his skate came loose from its moorings. Ross Edwards was also quit to have an open lip stitched. Saddest part of it all was that Crockett kept all but one puck out of the net, ducked a drive by Mott's Thoms, spoiling a story-book ending.

Mutt Collings scored on the first shot of the game, as Hogan fanned. Phillips took Don Williams' pass to make it 2-0, and then Johnny White opened the Aurora scoring as he took Mundell's relay. Megan and Thoms scored for Bradford to make it 4-1 at the end of the first period.

Megan and "Ozark Ike" Fox scored for the visitors. Irky Ross and Ray Williams tallied for Aurora to make it 6-3, and with Aurora pressing hard, Hogan took the count.

Vic Meharg scored a beauty to make it 6-4, and then there on it took all Ken Tupling's net wizardry to hold the Bradford lead. Thoms beat Crockett on a somewhat lucky effort, to make it 7-4, but the Indians were not leaving it there and carried the mail all the way to the end. Bill Patrick and Ross scored in the last three minutes as both teams wilted under the pace.

Referee Sparky Vail handed out 12 penalties. Sticks were carried high several times and only good whistle-toting stopped it. Aurora: goal, Hogan, def., Meharg, Doolittle, c. Williams, wings, Mundell and Broxier; subs, C. Taylor, M. Taylor, Nigh, Patrick, Edwards, White, Ross, Brandon and Crockett.

Bradford: goal, Tupling; def., Megan and Brinkos; c. R. Collings; wings, B. Collings, Boychoff; subs, Fox, Phillips, Gasko, Kuhla, Stevens, Willson, Thoms.

Spits Swamp E.C. 16-2 Gibney Out Injured

Our Spits, the hottest number in the Trolley Loop, pinned back the visitors' ears 16-2 Thursday evening. Visitors were the East Coast club. The Spits now ride the crest of three-game winning skein and are in the top bunk. Eight hundred and forty fans paid to witness the debacle and it will be tough to bring in even 40 next time.

The Spits ran into a tough break midway through the first canto when Harv. Gibney suffered a fractured collar bone. Gib went into the boards with an East Coast defenseman.

The Spits climbed aboard the gravy train for a comfortable 6-1 lead in the first 20 minutes. Stan Smith's fast flying gang proceeded to increase their margin landsliding into a 10-2 lead at the end of the second. The third was even more of a nightmare for the Coasters as the Spits piled in for another six without a reply.

Bill Johnston and Myles McInnis were the twine bulgers of the first order doing the hat trick. To keep it from being a whitewashing Percy Williams and Tom Campbell beat Freddie Dillman in the Spits' twinery.

Davis And Town Thrive Spec. And Hoff. Go Down

"The best two bits I ever spent" that's the way most of 470 payees described the return of Town Mercantile hockey to the winter sport scene. Run, sheep run, hockey at it's best. More guys chasing the puck than mice after cheese. What was lacking in a hockey sense was more than compensated for by "down-to-earth" action.

In the early exercises Davis Tanners rolled to a 6-1 triumph over the Specialty Cabinet-makers. They're something like a run in rummage, hard to beat, that's the Groves brothers, "Jing" Walt and Jack. The three G's almost single handedly hexed the Specialty. They snapped in four of the six goals on the Tannery side of the ledger. Howard Brown and Bruce Townsley popped away for the other Tannery markers. Burly Bill McKenzie moved up—they were all moving up but none coming back, said Coach Pete Neufeld—from the Specialty rear-wall to beat Gordon Fletcher for the Specialty honor.

Hoffman's "Iron Men," ah, slightly rusted version—a great one-way team, got up one end but couldn't get back—ran into much trouble and grief as the Town Merchants' big guns spoke seven times. It was Harold "Silent" Gwyn and Dave Couch for two each and singletons from Ken, "Ringer" Russell, Ivan Gibson and Bob McCabe. The Hoffers should have had at least one goal to crow over as Jack Duncan sailed into the town net but neglected to take the biscuit with him. Though diked seven times Handy Andy Andrews played an outstanding game in the Hoffman twine bungalow.

Battling Bill Ingram in the Town nets already has his hand out for the Vezina Trophy, a shut-out in his first game. Bob Benville possibly spoke for his team-mates quipping "I'll be different next time when my release comes through from Syracuse. I'll be able to really dangle." Next Monday at 7, Town vs. Specialty, Davis vs. Hoffman.

We are all sorry to hear little Sylvia Greensides is sick again. She has only just had the cast removed from her wrist which was broken several weeks ago and will be home for several days.

Others who have been sick are Brian, Sharon and Vicky Beatty, Mrs. T. Weedon and Mr. Wilbert Crane. Mr. Cheyne and Mr. R. Hunter.

Little Penelope Cheyne is in the Hospital for Sick Children. The Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wood. Subject discussed was "The Law of Supply and Demand." The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jewett on Monday, Jan. 16, at 8 p.m.

FIRST ARENA—

Artificial ice came to Aurora on Saturday night and Aurora Black Hawks juniors belted Georgetown juniors 9-2 before a crowd of around 900 fans.

The Aurora team lost the services for the year of burly Grant Green, import from Lindsay, who had the misfortune to have a tendon in his left leg cut by a skate and a bone cracked. Green moved up from the defence to right wing, had played stand-out hockey and the accident looked like a minor repair job as it occurred. Hawks, after a smashing second period attack, played listless hockey the last period and deprived goalie Paul Maguire of a well deserved shut-out by fall-Stouffville juveniles 8-1.

The first period saw Green tally at 3:08 as Firth set up the play. Georgetown battled hard, especially with the advantage of penalties to Simmons and Wardle, but they couldn't fire fast enough to beat Maguire. Don Gibson sizzled home Laurie Thoms' pass at 9:44 to give a sign of events to come and Ron Simmons, with assistance from Green and McMillan, made it 3-0 at 16:30. Penalties were even at two apiece. The roof caved in on the visitors in the second stanza as Thoms, Simmons, Collings, Attridge and McGhee tallied in that order.

Sparked by some great net-minding by Ross Dillon and taking advantage of individual thrusts by the goal-hungry Hawks, the Georgetown kids after Bill Attridge had made it 9-0 came back to hold Aurora scoreless in the last 15 minutes and count two themselves from the sticks of Gerald Inglis and Jack Hamilton.

Referees "Nipper" Cliffe and Jack Shropshire did a good job and kept the game clean. It was 45 minutes late in starting due to the roads, but the fans took it in good part, although disappointed by the opposition action.

Aurora: goal, Maguire; def., Atkinson and McGhee; c. Thoms; wings, Attridge and Gibson; subs, Firth, Wardle, Simmons, McMillan, Green, Marchant, McPhee, Keith Collings.

Georgetown: goal, Dillon; def., Hiltz, Baxter; c. Hewitt; wings, Huffman, Inglis; subs, Hamilton, King, Gillies, Louth, Haines, Golden, Bludd, Walters.

Contemporary Can. Art At Toronto Gallery

Ten Canadian art societies will hold a special exhibition of contemporary Canadian arts and crafts at the Art Gallery of Toronto beginning early in March. The local Handcraft Group has been notified of the proposed showing and are looking forward with keen interest to entering their articles.

Mr. Martin Baldwin, gallery director, in announcing the event said that the exhibition will occupy the whole Gallery "and will be, to my knowledge, the largest exhibition of contemporary Canadian works ever to go on display."

A joint committee has been formed under the chairmanship of Cleve Horne, president of the Ontario Society of Artists, to organize and plan the exhibit.

It will be possible to see under the one roof, a cross-section of contemporary art being produced in Canada. The major national art societies have joined together to present one memorable exhibition as their contribution to the celebration of the Art Gallery's 50th anniversary. Mr. Horne said that he felt the exhibition would be the most important one in the history of Canadian art.

Societies to be represented in the exhibit are the Royal Canadian Academy of Art, the Canadian Group of Painters, the Ontario Society of Artists, the Canadian Society of Painters in Water Colors, the Sculptors' Society of Canada, the Canadian Society of Graphic Arts, the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada, the Canadian Guild of Potters, the Canadian Handicraft Guild and the Spinners and Weavers of Ontario.

Bromfield Guest Speaker V.L.A., Hort. Soc. Invited

At 8 p.m. January 19 in Sunnyside hospital auditorium, Bayview Ave., an internationally famous author and exponent of soil conservation, Louis Bromfield, will address VLA small holders from the Toronto district as guest speaker, following the presentation of plaques to winners of the summer's small holding development competition. His address will be the high point of the evening.

Members of the Sunny Hills sub-division Home Owners' Association who are interested in attending the meeting are requested to contact Nelson Ion, phone 993, regarding transportation. Members of the Newmarket Horticultural Society are also invited to attend this meeting. Anyone who is able to take extra people in his car is asked to let Mr. Ion know as soon as possible.

The guest speaker, Louis Bromfield, is a newspaperman, author of a number of best sellers, a veteran himself and North American's most outstanding soil conservationist. Two of his best-known books are "Malabar Farm" and "Pleasant Valley". They deal with the reclaiming of a worthless 1,000-acre farm in Ohio which today is one of the world's outstanding agricultural showplaces developed scientifically within a short period.

Professor J. A. Weall, O.A.C., Guelph, will also speak briefly on suitable arrangements and landscape horticultural designs for small holdings. He is known nationally as a speaker who combines entertainment with instruction and is in demand for instructive and illustrative lectures on these specialized fields of horticulture.

Visual interest will be provided through a short series of time-lapse color films illustrating the life cycles of popular plants and flowers. These are actual shots of the growth and movements of plants taken every few minutes and have proven fascinating to thousands of amateur and professional horticulturists in this area.

SYLVIA BOYD WEDS

D. M. McCONNEY

In a ceremony conducted by her father, Sylvia Marguerite Boyd, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. Boyd, became the bride of Douglas Meyer McConney, son of Charles J. McConney and the late Mrs. McConney, in the Anglican Church of the Epiphany, Toronto. Greens and white 'mums formed the background for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, David Boyd, the bride was gowning in white satin designed with an apron peplum forming a bustle at the back. A halo of braided satin held her veil of white embroidered tulle and she carried red roses and white 'mums.

Her only attendant, Betty Baldwin, was in royal blue crepe. She wore a silver Juliet cap and carried red and white 'mums. Francis Gomer was groomsmen and ushers were Charles Campbell and Douglas Forster. At Kilcooley Gardens, the bride's mother received in blue gray crepe with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's aunt, Eleanor Wilson, assisted in brown silk with a corsage of pink carnations. With them was the groom's sister, Mrs. Charles Campbell, in navy tulle with a corsage of white carnations.

In 1945 the Federal government had an $865,000,000 investment in capital goods and housing. By 1948 this totalled $2,600,000,000.

Wisdom Of Being Direct

Thelma, teenager, is the shy type and avoids intimate discussions with her mother.

There are certain facts about life that every girl should know. Fortunately is the girl who learns these facts as facts from her mother before outside influences warp her mind or threaten her future.

Thelma's mother is very sensible and practical about most things, but she is allowing her daughter's shyness to influence her better judgment.

When Thelma's mother approached her on the subject of life, she was rebuffed by her daughter. Thelma insisted she knew all about life and made a hurried exit. Even though Thelma assumed a worldly attitude for the occasion, she was really too shy to face the subject.

How and what Thelma has learned seems to be puzzling her mother. However, the main concern should be to know that Thelma is properly and adequately informed even though it may mean some repetition of what she has learned.

There are books that are suitable for instruction, but Thelma isn't the type who could be depended on to read them even if they were made easily available. The only way Thelma's mother can be certain she does know the facts is to tell or read them to her, herself. So much of her daughter's future happiness depends on this knowledge, that she mustn't shirk her duty.

Although there may be some unnecessary embarrassment on both sides—mother owes it to daughter to acquaint her child with the facts about life; and, if the daughter is wise, she will listen and not fake knowledge as in Thelma's instance.

The Common Round...

PERSONALITIES

It's neither kind nor polite to talk about the idiosyncrasies—the odd little twists of personalities—of people that make us either love, fear or detest them.

Be that as it may, I'm going to talk about three of my friends—expose them to a hostile or a friendly reader depending on your allergies or acrophobias—isn't that a lovely word, and it is the absolute terror of cats!

We know that diet has a lot to do with human personalities—look back at a morning after you had indulged in—not what you think—but in Welsh rabbit, fruit cake and black coffee and you'll see what I mean, so why not cats? Well, anyway, our cats this fall looked sort of moth-eaten, so we experimented and finally settled on a cat food which has raised their I.Q. and energy, a fact to which the other half of the family's hands and mine bear eloquent testimony, being criss-crossed with scratches accentuated in so-called play.

Beauty, a Persian and mother of this interesting family, is a cat of dignity and when she walks into a room after being combed with ruff erect and the bearing of a queen, we give her a look of admiration. But when we forget to comb her and she lies in the middle of the rug and extracts bunches of burrs and lumps of loose hair from her person, leaving them firmly attached to said rug, while she walks away with her tongue out half an inch and a backward, impudent glance, we may, in a moment of weakness, say something quite different.

Moreover she is very sensitive and terribly easily offended. If one of her sons so much as sticks an inquisitive nose into her plate, knowing as cats do that she sometimes gets tid-bits being the oldest and Archie's pet, she fairly trembles with indignation and walks off and will not eat, maybe for a whole day.

Loud sounds annoy her and she has a pleasing (?) habit of waking me up at 3 a.m. to let her out—she wouldn't disturb Archie for the world—then trots downstairs ahead of me, marches to the door, gives a hiss at me that would do credit to a rattlesnake, and departs on her own affairs into the night, leaving me to crawl back into a cold bed, wondering why I can't scare up an allergy. I remember a woman coming into our living room one day and before she even sat down, screaming "There's a cat in this room, oh take it out!" while her husband said soothingly to her, "It's alright, dear," and apologetically to me, "She can't help it, it's an allergy."

Beauty's older son, Stripesy, is a fine looking fellow—in color, bronze like his dainty mama, but unlike her in every other way, for we've learned with Kipling, that the female of the species is more deadly than the male, because when a strange cat appears all one sees is a small bronze fury leaping on the stranger while fur flies and strange sounds issue from the conflict and when the dust of battle

INSTITUTE MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of Newmarket Women's Institute will be held on Thursday, Jan. 19, 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. R. E. McMullen, 25 Queen St. W. The program will be on citizenship and is under the leadership of Mrs. Alan Mills and her group. An interesting program has been arranged.

Those who have neglected to do so are reminded to bring their holiday cards to this meeting. Blue Cross fees may be paid that afternoon.

clears, there is only Beauty, washing herself and looking smug, while her sons who have only added weird sound effects to the fray, gaze at her in awed admiration until she gives them a bat on the side of the head and retires swollen with victory to sit on Archie's knee and gaze into the fire and listen while we tell her what a wonderful cat she is.

But to return to Stripesy. He is afflicted with an inferiority complex and never knows what to do in a tight spot. For instance, the other day he caught a mouse. Did he play with it, or eat it? No! He went and stood in front of Archie with it hanging in his mouth and as much as to say, "What do I do now?" Then he dropped it and watched it scuttle away to safety, while he looked reproachfully at Archie as much as to say, "Why didn't you do something?" He lets Daffy—short for Daffodil—do anything he likes with him, from chewing his ears to pulling his tail, and only swears in an undertone when Daff goes too far. Daffy is all gold, gold stripes on a daffodil ground, gold eyes and a heart of gold, being the cuddliest kitten we ever had—a bit awkward at times when he insists on sitting on your chest if you are lying reading, or lying on your work or writing, but he can fetch a ball thrown to him just like a little dog and even at times catch it in his paws, and he is the first kitten who ever respected the Christmas tree—just would sit and admire it and touch the balls carefully, but never hurt them.

He loves music, listens to the radio and plays the piano by walking the keys and producing a good imitation of a modernistic symphony. What he will become in later life no one knows, but there is the Ingleside cat family and they have personalities.

SHOPPING WITH BETTY

Men Will Have Taller Look

The forerunners of spring suiting samples have arrived in several of the stores in Newmarket and there is a trend to grey in men's suits and green is coming into its own for the ladies. We have it from an authority that men will have a taller look in 1950.

A very plain sophisticated sheath-type dress we saw was in black crinkle faille, which is crease-proof. It had a long slit tunic, high neckline, long, tight sleeves and covered belt. The perfect dress to show off your necklaces and pins.

For lunching at home by your fireside now and for porch suppers in the late spring and summer, lap trays are very handy. We saw some on Main St. that were full size and decorated with flowers, flying birds and Japanese figures. This same shop has all kinds of gaily colored wrapping paper to make your gifts something special.

One of the shops in town has a wonderful array of suits and dresses that would be ideal for the shorter person. They are also clearing out their winter stock of hats, skirts, children's coats, etc., to make way for their spring fashions. Selling at a fraction of what they formerly did, your budget won't suffer a great deal.

We can never pass a display of china without stopping for a few minutes. One of the Newmarket shops has lovely odd cups and saucers in Coalport, Royal Albert, Irish Belleek and Shelley. Some are selling much below their usual price and would be ideal to put away for future show-er gifts.

gloves? Let the cold wind blow, your fingers will be warm as toast. Several of the stores in town have the wool and it is in the most delightful colors—pink, green, blue, yellow, beige, grey and of course, white. If you are really feeling energetic you might make an angora sweater. Ginger says not to wear it to a dance, he practically ruined a new suit once.

A tip from Betty: To get twice the wear from your nylons rinse your new stockings in a mild solution of vinegar and water before you wear them.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE E. ION

On these cold, windy nights in January the desire to remain close beside one's own fireplace is very great. It requires more will power than we care to muster to venture forth to meetings, especially on Wednesday night when we have such excellent programs as the C.B.C.

Did you hear last week's broadcast on the Australian theme? There was some of the lovely familiar music of Percy Grainger; an exciting drama of the trip from Britain to the continent down under when it took about five months to make the hazardous journey. This play was the work of Irish actors and was re-broadcast for inclusion on the Wednesday night program by the B.C.C. There were ballads by Australians, a short synopsis of poets and poetry of Australia and then more music.

Another recent broadcast which was outstanding was the presentation of an evening of Handel which featured his oratorio, "The Messiah". It was almost four hours in length and free, but for the turning of a small radio knob for us to enjoy in our own homes.

Not only are these programs striving for variety of theme, excellency of production and general appeal to an appreciative Canadian audience, but they are placing the accent on Canadian talent, young and old. Such was the story when a full-scale "concert version" of the opera, "Carmen" was presented.

In the title role was a 24-year-old Toronto girl, Margaret Kerr, who is receiving wide acclaim from radio and music critics. This role marked her operatic debut. It is reported that when she first saw "Carmen" with her father at the Met, when she was 15, Margaret Kerr resolved to play the part someday. The strong character of "Carmen" dominates the work and it was a heavy role for her. But judging from the press notices which followed the production she did amazingly well. Last spring the talent scouts began to audition in Quebec and Ontario for the girl to fill this role. Margaret Kerr was selected over the other 28 aspirants.

The C.B.C. opera company which but a short time ago presented Benjamin Britten's "Peter Grimes" on a similar Wednesday night broadcast together with the Toronto Symphony orchestra under the baton of Nicholas Goldschmidt staged the opera at Massey Hall. The hall had been converted into a broadcasting studio for the occasion. Besides the ten principal singers, there was a chorus of 40 and 80 players in the orchestra.

Wednesday night is not the only good night for radio in Canada, both from the audience and participants' point of view. On Friday, the Ford Theatre has been presenting this season a wide variety of hour-long plays. Some of them from my personal opinion have been weak, while others have been excellent. Allan Savage is the producer and again the emphasis is on Canadian talent. This provides opportunities for young Canadians with ideas in radio to try them out in their own country. Tomorrow evening the last two of Somerset Maugham's "Quartet" will be done.

Amusement and entertainment of a different sort was provided Monday afternoon when we went with the grade one pupils to the Memorial Arena for the skating session. Never have we seen such a display of enthusiasm and determination as was evidenced

DELIGHTED WITH ARENA

Miss Rita Kirk, Toronto, daughter of the late Tom Kirk in whose remembrance the annual Tom Kirk Night is held, visited the Memorial Arena while in town over the weekend. Miss Kirk was delighted with the splendid job which the citizens of Newmarket had accomplished and expressed the hope that the arena would be well used by all age groups in the community.

THE HOMEMAKERS

Corn Dishes Are Tasty

Canned corn served piping hot just as it comes from the tin is tasty. It will meet with the approval of any family. At the present time, fortunately there is an ample supply and it is easy on the budget.

Served in casserole dishes or in chowder, corn makes a welcome variation for supper or lunch menus. With a bit of ingenuity and planning the cook may develop many new and delicious combinations.

Our readers seem to find menus for dinners and breakfasts no trouble, but hit a rut in the planning of the day's third meal. Most frequent requests are for dishes which will help with this difficulty and today we have three such recipes. Try them soon for they are excellent.

CORN PUFF

- 2 Egg yolks
- 1 Cup milk
- 2 Cups cream style canned corn
- 1 Tsp. salt
- 1/4 Tsp. pepper
- 1 Cup minced ham, cooked
- 2 Egg whites

Beat egg yolks, add milk, corn, salt and pepper. Beat well, add ham and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased casserole, place in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 40 minutes. Yield: six servings.

CORN CREOLE

- 2 Tbsp. chopped onion
- 2 Tbsp. chopped green pepper (optional)
- 2 Tbsp. butter
- 1 Can whole kernel corn
- 1 Can condensed cream of tomato soup
- Dash of pepper
- 6 Strips bacon

Fry the chopped onion and green pepper in the butter until tender. Combine with corn and tomato soup and a dash of pepper. Pour into a shallow casserole and top with strips of bacon. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 30 minutes. Yield: six servings.

CORN CHOWDER

- 1/2 Cup chopped onion

Honor Parents On 48th Anniversary

A happy time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Crowder, Newmarket, on New Year's, the occasion being their 48th wedding anniversary.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Orval Hisey, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Briler, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Crowder, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Crowder, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred McKay and Miss Eva Crowder, seven of their 11 grandchildren were also present. They have five great-grandchildren.

After the dinner which was served at 5 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Crowder were presented with a lovely table radio with the compliments and best wishes of all present.

The evening was a pleasant one. It was the second time in 26 years that the family was all home at the same time, the last time being in June on Mrs. Crowder's birthday when her family presented her with a Westminster chime mantle clock. Both reunions were greatly enjoyed by all.

Big land bargain: The United States' payment of only two cents an acre to Russia for Alaska in 1867. Cost was $7,200,000.

Children's Film Library Supplies Suitable Movies

The Children's Film Library has been created in order to ensure that at all times motion picture entertainment of the highest quality is available at children's shows. It was initiated by the National Film Society of Canada and has the active support of the film industry itself.

Ever since there have been movies, the Saturday matinee has held a great attraction for children. Too often the local manager has been more interested in selling tickets than in providing appropriate moving picture programs for juveniles. The Children's Film Library Committee of Canada is trying to provide the answer for the theatre manager who complains that he cannot find suitable pictures for children.

These films are used only in motion picture theatres as they are available only in 35 mm. film and may not be used in church, community or clubroom auditoriums. They are for use in the neighborhood theatres. All bookings are made by the theatre operator through the regular booking channels and in the case of Newmarket, the exchange centre is at Toronto. Booking is done on an individual company basis as in the case of any and all motion picture film.

These films may be used for special children's matinee shows, if so desired by the local theatre operator and the interested local organizations, or may be used to replace films that are playing at theatres but which are not considered suitable for children's matinee. The children's Film Library is jointly sponsored by 12 national organizations. Four of these groups have active branches in Newmarket. Canadian Federation of Home and School, Catholic Women's League of Canada, Girl Guides of Canada and the Canadian Federation of Women's Institutes. Membership is open to any and all national organizations interested and active in this type of work.

All pictures are chosen by a committee made up of representatives of all participating national organizations with the assistance and co-operation of the Canadian Motion Picture Distributors' Association. The committee, in screening the films, judges them from a social, moral, educational and entertainment point of view, keeping in mind the particular interests of the children from eight to 12 years of age.

When a picture has been passed by the committee it must then pass the acid test of a children's group. It must interest the children or fail. This is where the recently devised wriggle test is used — a test which positively determines the reactions of the children to the picture.

Once a film has been accepted by the committee and has past all the tests, its distribution is the responsibility of the Motion Pictures Distributors and Exhibitors. It is up to the local community organizations to create a local demand for them.

Midgets Drop Opener To Richmond Hill

Mickey Smith's Legion midgets ran smack into trouble in their initial test of the season, dropping a 7-3 decision at the arena Saturday afternoon to a huskier and heavier band of Richmond Hill skaters. The Hill charged in for three goals in the final 20 minutes to put the game beyond the reach of the Smith-coached contingent.

It was all very well to treat the visitors handsomely but our young gaffers overdid it, popping three goals into their own cage, almost enough to make goalie Langford turn in his union ticket. Frank Morton, Freeman West and Wayne Robinson scored two. Don Watt, Tommy White and Lloyd Grainger found the range for singletons.

Aurora Indians Choose Executive

Aurora Indians, intermediate hockey team, are struggling hard to get back into the O.H.A. picture. In the past few seasons, Aurora has had an intermediate club that has been far from prosperous, either in results or in finances.

This year the men in charge of the club got together and planned to run the team so that the players would be the only people to benefit. They have told the team members of the system to be tried this year hoping that the players would produce more winning efforts than in the past.

Following last Sunday's practice, Vic Meharg, veteran defence-man, was elected captain of the club for 1956 and Bill Mundell and Murray Brandon were chosen as assistants.

To sit in on the executive meetings and represent the team, the players elected Norman Taylor vice president and Ray Williams treasurer.

Harold Rogers is manager-coach. The rest of the executive is president Bert Maynard and members, L. Dinty Moore, Ray White and Bill Foote.

At the end of the season it has been decided that the money remaining after all expenses have been paid and equipment left in the same condition as it was at the season's beginning, will be used to buy windbreakers for the players and hold a banquet for the team. It is believed that the Aurora Indians is the only club in the Trolley League operating under this plan.

Stouffville, Newmarket Divide Minor Points

Newmarket and Stouffville renewed an old feud on the ice lanes Tuesday as minor hockey made its debut with a double-header attraction at the arena. The teams split their take home points. In the after-supper tilt our Legion midgets dropped a 7-1 decision. Hoffman's high flying "Rockets" did what rockets are supposed to do and downed Stouffville juveniles 8-1.

Only in the first period were our midgets in the hunt. They were down one goal at this juncture. Wayne Robinson bursting into the clear on a pass from Freeman West. Stouffville tucked away two goals and the visitors had things much their own way over the rest of the route.

In the juvenile encounter Bill Smith took the starch out of the Stouffville with a pair of fast counters. It was Smitty again early in the third that dunked the puck behind the Stouffville netminder. Howard Ash sank two more to boost our total 5-0 before the period wound up.

Stouffville punctured the Rockets armor in the third and Howard Peterman's shut-out flew out the window. "Pepper" Martin, Murray McDonald and Howard Ash, up with his third, completed the Rockets scoring. A fine start you Hoffman men, "Ceegars" McDonald, Bob Murray, Pat McLean, Frank Johnston and Gord Stephenson.

Is It Spits Or Indians? Tonight Will Tell

Aurora Indians, Aurora's intermediate representatives, arrive tonight to see the Spits. Our heroes are set to hoist their socks even higher by scalping these marauders. Can they do it? Well, just don't sit there, better be down at the arena to see what gives.

It may be a fight for top rung in the Metropolitan circuit. An Aurora win Tuesday over Bradford will give them two wins and nary a loss to mar the record. This being the case Harold Rogers would like nothing better than to polish off the Spits. Aurora has one front wall and that is really flying, Tom Brodie, Bill Mundell and Ray Williams.

Coach Stan Smith will, of course, be without Harv Gibney but expects to ice a full team with this one exception.

Markham, Collingwood Game Here Friday

Markham "Millionaires" should conjure up some old memories in the minds of hockey clientele. The Millionaires over the years have been noted for their passing plays. Well Newmarket fans will have a chance to witness these greats in action Friday evening. The Millionaires will do battle with Collingwood. It is a regular senior B group game and Markham will use Newmarket as its home ice on this occasion.

The Great Lakes have no tides but water levels vary with heavy rains or strong winds.

NEWS 'N' VIEWS

By GEORGE HASKETT

ERA AND EXPRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Assembly line scoring. Spits, in high gear, dumped 16 behind exceedingly busy Easy Coast netminder Thursday. Eight hundred and 40 fans shuddered through the rout. Herb Commarty, Coasters chief whip, left with one thought bolstering up his sagging forces. League doormats—haven't won a game in five tries—can't do it too soon to suit the other teams. Weak competition has hit into their gate receipts hard.

Wurra, wurra, another headache for Trolley League top brass. John Hines, Harold Rogers and company. Navy Vets failed to show at Bradford Saturday p.m. Collings clan and helpers were out in full force. Bob Peters and Sparky Vail O.H.A. appointees, were ready. Vets didn't even leave Toronto. Thought no ice at Bradford was the way manager Don McDonald put it. Four hundred fans disappointed. Took a rain check on next Saturday's game with Newmarket. However, this sort of shenanigan does irreparable damage to future gates. When O.H.A. has full report, when referees forward—can tack on $25 no appearance fine and can go as far as ousting the Navy Vets from competition. How it will work out time alone will tell.

As is usually the case. Happens against the weakest teams. Harvey Gibney's injury likely shelves him for this season. Gib has been patrolling the ice lanes for Newmarket teams for years and years. Always ready too, to pitch in and help our struggling minor teams with the whistle tooting. Feet is, Gib was going to do refereeing in the town league. That's out now, of course. Town hockey men should go out and line up major attraction to assist Gib in leading Kid Doctor bill. Say, why not Markham or Stouffville? Would like to see how Spits stack up against them. What say, men? Would pull in the customers, never fear.

Too long—much too long have delayed paying tribute to all those chaps handling our minor age teams. Present set-up best in town's history. Every lad from squirt through to juvenile getting his chance. Optimists have a busy four team set-up making history. Legion with Mickey Smith at the helm sponsor midgets. Juveniles now happy under Hoffman employees banner. Have changed their name to "Rockets". Is a Rocket faster than a Spitfire? Drop around to the rink Tuesday and see for yourself. Almost any Tuesday will do.

Haskett's Hash: Congrats to our sister town of Aurora. Artificial ice came into being Saturday. Don Gibson, "Ortie" Thoms and Grant Firth carry canal town interest with Aurora juniors. 'Tis said, can't vouch for it, Aurora junior home games Thursday. There we go again—Newmarket Spits home jam sessions Thursday, too.

Why oh why do they do it? Knocks both teams' gates. Sorry to see Bert Morrison go off the arena board of management. Bert has been a faithful worker there and with the ways and means committee. Joe Dales, Optimists' president, now has the council appointment—a good choice to succeed Bert on the management committee. Everybody and his uncle says town league will be a walk for Merchants. Industrial teams may surprise even their staunchest supporters before the season is out. Very few are aware of the fact but Newmarket has something extra special in the way of goal nets. At the start of the season arena required new nets. Dewey Kuhns, Hoffman chief, turned his busy band of workers loose on the project. Result, new nets, and they devised a scheme to save a considerable amount of wear and tear on lower edges of the goal twine. Better have the scheme patented. Spits seem to be getting their share of goals anyhow. Rumor that may be the McCoy, won't know until Tuesday evening, says rink manager Perc Hutchinson. Markham "Millionaires" may bring home game here Friday. If no ice at home that is. Opposition for the Millionaires would be Collingwood.

Notices, bulletins, challenges: Tonight, Thursday, the Indians are coming. Harold Rogers leads his war party in for a whoop with the Spits. The big event of the season. Better be prepared for almost anything. Monday another big double header town league attraction.

Trials And Tribulations

The trials and tribulations that gave Mr. Job such trouble hit the camp of the Aurora Hawks on the weekend. First came the refusal by the O.H.A. to pass the certificates of Ed. Calhoun, Len. Smith and Gerry Dillon on the grounds that the three "bully boys" who played with Weston juniors last team were the property of the Brampton Junior club since the Peel county metropolis is closer to Weston than Aurora by a matter of some ten miles. The case of the trio had previously been presented to George Panter by club officials and it had been pretty well taken as read that they were free to play with Aurora, having received releases from the Weston club, and the Brampton management knowing full well the boys were with Aurora.

Coach Red Mitchell has used the three in all games to date, and they formed an integral part of Aurora plans. At the worst it was thought they would class as the three imports allowed by the O.H.A. Smith and Dillon played with Aurora in Georgetown, and all three were on hand to play Saturday night. They all say that if they can't play for Aurora they definitely won't play for Brampton. If they can't play higher hockey they'll be playing T.H.L. or sitting it out for the winter. The Aurora management is placing the matter before the O.H.A. executive and hope for some sort of a deal to be worked out before too long.

Added to the prospective loss of three players suited for a gruelling grind, came the injury to Grant Green. The big Lindsay boy who has looked good this year, was the victim of a deep skate wound on Saturday night and may perhaps be sidelined from hockey beyond this season. Grant who moved here last fall was well regarded by his employer and was popular with his teammates, and he could play equally well on defence or the wing line. Aside from the loss of playing strength, the club will naturally enough have to dig deep in the coffers to help out the financial picture. Already they've been hit hard by the loss of the popular Bill Wilkinson through a broken leg. It takes a lot of mazzina to keep the hockey skates in action, and injuries have really brought out the red ink, aside from a late

Flyers and still going plenty hot.

Met officials were rightfully enough burned up when Naval Vets failed to show at Bradford Saturday. With weak opposition from East Coast and snags developing with the Toronto managements, a showdown may be in the offing. Both clubs are said to object to Bradford using Chuck Nesbitt and Don Wilson as they aren't residents there, and Aurora and Newmarket may also come under fire on the player question.

Orchids to arena manager Tom Dickson who after trying times and long hours came up with a smile and ice on Saturday and had most of the details so essential to a good job for the teams, public and press typed.

Fred Turner, who was connected with the Oakville junior team which played in district hockey a few years ago and also the Oakville team which lost out to Aurora in the midget series of '46, is one of the powers that be behind the present Oakville juniors who will be seen at Aurora tonight. The Oakville team is composed entirely of homebreds and they wear white sweaters trimmed with blue and red, the pants and socks being similar to Montreal Canadiens. In exhibition games to date they have been beaten by Georgetown and Brampton, which doesn't speak too well for the opposition but you never can tell. Aurora plays back in Oakville the next night. Oakville is said to have one smart line composed of Ross Haskirk, Ken Brown and Dave Boxford that can really travel. The Scott brothers, George and Fred, who are the bulwark of the Markham Millionaires defence, have been moved with their families into the Markham area at a cost in three figures, at least to the club, and there's nary a squawk.

Herbie Rose, Aurora softballer who lives outside the Stouffville radius, and Dick Perry of Markham who is on the outside of the Markham orbit, have both been granted permission to play with their respective clubs by the O.H.A. Are you listening, Messrs. Attridge, Child and Tunney? Sib Broadbent, veteran Midland hockeyist who has retired annually since away back, has rejoined the Midland Club which is faltering at the bottom of the big seven group which sees Markham, Toronto Meteors, Stouffville, Collingwood, Orillia, Toronto Eclipse and Midland in that order. Markham, undefeated this year, was tied by Orillia on Saturday night as the race opens wide and competition begins to come to a boil. Stouffville handed the unbeaten, but tied, Toronto Meteors a jolt at the weekend. Brampton arena opens its doors officially on Friday, Jan. 13. Alliston will have artificial ice by the first of February. The plans have been approved and the funds raised. Nice going, Alliston.
